

Community involvement

Recent projects include:

Filwood Broadway Framework

We worked in partnership with local residents and stakeholders to produce the Framework. This has been endorsed by local residents, the Neighbourhood leaders and the Council Cabinet.

Lawrence Weston College Site

We produced a development brief in partnership with the Lawrence Weston Neighbourhood Planning Group and Neighbourhood Partnership. Community involvement tools included a walkabout and an interactive model at the wider community event.

St Paul's Park

This award winning community space resulted from a collaborative design approach. Local people, the police and the City Council were all involved.

The Community's Vision for Lockleaze

We supported residents to produce a vision document that ensures good development. The Council has endorsed the vision and the government has given Neighbourhood Forum status to the local planning group.

'Know Your Hillfields' community roadshow at Hillfields Library, March 2012

We are committed to community involvement through all our projects. Local people know a great deal about their own neighbourhoods. Their views are essential to help shape quality places and guide new development.

We use community engagement tools such as 'placecheck' to generate ideas. This gets local people actively involved through walkabouts and discussions. We also hold events for the wider community to capture local views. Recently we have developed online resources including Design Bristol and Know Your Place.

Know Your Place

Know Your Place (www.bristol.gov.uk/knowyourplace) was created in partnership with community groups and launched in March 2011. It is an award-winning, web-based tool that can help local communities understand the historic development of their neighbourhoods.
