

Family Values

Not hurting others and also standing up for those who can't stand up for themselves	Being respectful and courteous	Volunteering time and skills in the community
Being generous with what you have	Being honest with others	Participating in teamwork
Love your country	Treating everyone equally, regardless of ethnicity, race, religion, or sexual orientation	Being open-minded to new things
Following the law and respecting those who enforce it	Working hard for success	Showing compassion to those in need
Treating others as one would like to be treated	Continually learning and growing both spiritually and intellectually	Being respectful and non-violent
Always doing your best work	Being modest	Saving a portion of your salary/allowance
Finding opportunities to express your ideas and creativity	Being proud of your achievements	Making education a priority
Being honest and trustworthy	Being courageous	Never giving up
Being patient	Taking personal responsibility	Being kind
Spending family time together	Allowing and encouraging each family member to pursue interests	Respecting your elders
Never get caught	Do to others what they do to you	If anyone hits you, hit them back harder
Nobody tells you what to do	Respect your elders	Any others?
