

*Local List - Amendments Proposed
Form for applications under Section
73 of the Town and Country
Planning Act 1990*

September
2024

Section 73 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 allows applicants to apply for planning permission for the development of land without complying with conditions subject to which a previous planning permission was granted. This section can be used to amend planning conditions only and cannot change the description of development.

This form has been prepared to guide applicants and their agents in preparing Section 73 applications and to facilitate swifter processing and determination of such applications.

In addition to the drawings that should be clearly labelled showing the approved plans and the changes that are proposed, applicants are also required to provide a written description of the changes below and any explanation regarding the reason for the change.
