

Insight Bristol Privacy Notice

Bristol City Council is the data controller for the purposes of the Data Protection Act 2018 and other regulations including the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR), which means it determines what your personal data is used for and why it is collected.

The purpose of this privacy notice is to tell you about how we collect and use personal data in connection with our service. We may update this privacy notice from time to time. When we do this, we will communicate any changes to you and publish the revised privacy notice on our website.

Our main address is City Hall, College Green, Bristol, BS1 5TR and our contact details can be found on Bristol City Website

What data we need to collect and use?

To provide this service, we will collect and use some or all of the personal information below:

- Name
- Date of birth
- Location data
- NHS Number
- Relating to the financial affairs of the individual
- Relating to lifestyle/social circumstances
- Relating to the family of the individual
- Education history
- Data concerning health
- Personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin
- Data concerning a person's sex life
- Data concerning a person's sexual orientation

We get most of this information from you and from what we learn about you through your use of our services, but we may also get some information about you from:

- Avon and Somerset Police
- Barnardo's
- Department of Education
- Department of Work and Pension

How do we use your personal information?

We use this information for one or more of the following reasons:

Data is collected in line with legal obligations placed upon the local authority, to inform early intervention, prevention, and targeted support for vulnerable families. We then use this information to produce a single view of a person for safeguarding professional to access, this is via the Think Family Database (TFD) which supports and connects safeguarding professionals from Bristol City Council and other public sector organisations.

The information within this is sensitive person level data, however it is only used at a case-by-case level and accessed primarily by Bristol City Council safeguarding professionals that are reviewing the need for the family or are actively working with the family. The information within this view also details the safeguarding professionals from across our critical partners also working with the family. Our critical partners include educational settings across Bristol which have access to the Think Family Education (TFE) application (app). The app helps Designated Safeguarding Leads and pastoral teams identify vulnerabilities by sharing timely and crucial data from Bristol City Council, Avon and Somerset Police and other partners. These products allow professionals to connect more quickly and reduce the need for the family to explain issues multiple times.

Information is also used at an aggregated level; this gives the ability to understand the number of vulnerable people across the city. This can help inform strategic planning for Early Help and Targeted Support services and the local approach to the Supporting Families Programme. Other reporting allows the ability to map geographically highlighting the most vulnerable areas of the city, which provides additional insight for commissioning teams, this information only includes non-identifiable depersonalised data.

Who else might we share your personal information with?

Sometimes we may need to share your information, but we will only do so where we have a valid legal basis to share data. We will only share the minimum information for each circumstance. We may share some of your personal information with one or more of the following:

Partner Agencies such as:

- Avon and Somerset Police
